ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR HEADS BIBLE INSTITUTE

The Flight of the Cranes

By Herman Shakespeare

Translated from the Portuguese by R. M. Cornelius

In nineteen hundred and sixty-six,
Out from his nest atop Bryan's bricks
Of ivy flew a lanky, young Crane
And winged his way north to study again
At Trinity. Next stop—Detroit—
To learn by teaching (a worthy exploit).
And then with Bea and their family:
Danny and Eric and Stephanie,
Retracing the route Columbus took,
They went to Iberia to teach God's Book.
After six years of obeying God's call,
There arose the Bible Institute of Portugal.
And so for faithfulness unto the Lord,
We present to Don Crane our '78 award.

DON CRANE '66 is pictured with his wife, BEATRICE (PENDLETON) '66 and their children, Stephanie, 11; Eric, 9; and Danny, 7. The Cranes are currently residing in Richmond, Virginia, during their year of furlough from Portugal. The accompanying review of the ministry in Portugal provides the background for the selection of Don Crane as the 1978 Alumnus of the Year. The award was announced at the Homecoming alumni dinner but will be presented to Mr. Crane when he visits Bryan in March, the Lord willing.

THE PORTUGUESE BIBLE INSTITUTE

by Don Crane

In 1969 The Greater Europe Mission appointed Bea and me to open a work in Portugal. Our assignment: train Portuguese and evangelize Portugal.

An initial survey revealed a small but dedicated church of about 50,000 among a population of nine million. The believers were serving the Lord to the best of their abilities, but very few had ever had the opportunity to receive biblical training. Poor teaching and stalled growth were the results.

The Portuguese believers were well aware of their need and many expressed support for an interdenominational Bible institute. However, most of those that could profit from that training were already tied down to homes, jobs, and local church ministries. We had to provide them with an educational program in their own communities and in the context of their local churches.

The answer God gave us was Theological Education by Extension. In 1974, using Lisbon as a base, our team established nine extension centers in key locations around Portugal. Ninety students from seven denominations began their four-year course at that time.

Utilizing programmed text books, the students study at home, attend weekly two-hour seminars for testing and discussion, and are able to apply in their lives and ministries immediately what they are learning. Today 150 students are being discipled in 20 centers scattered all over the country. This program has had a profound effect on many of the churches, resulting in spiritual and numerical growth.

The Revolution of 1974 and the ensuing instability threatened to undo the work that God was doing in a country that has never experienced a spiritual awakening. The Lord had other plans. Political upheaval, destitute refugees from the African colonies, and economic disaster were all instruments in His hands to bring many to salvation and inspire the Church to greater dedication. Our extension program actually grew during this period, and an evangelistic film ministry we had developed became very effective in refugee hotels.

"When are you going to open the residential school? This is good but it is just not enough for me. I believe that God wants me to be a fulltime evangelist, and I need more in-depth training." Ze Santana's concern was typical of many of our extension students. For such young people we founded the Portuguese Bible Institute residential school in 1977.

The Lord provided us with a facility that would accommodate up to 23 resident students, which would make us the second largest evangelical Bible school in southern Europe. Our expectations were too low. Already the Institute is full with 23 residents and 5 commuters.

God is doing something special in Portugal, and we want to be a part of what He is doing. We have responded with a five-year development plan that will provide for 55 residents, 300 extension, and 30 night school students by the fall of 1982. This entails more staff, and facilities. Just this academic year we have a $35,000 project for land and dorm expansion. Without it we will not be able to admit an incoming class next year.

We are training Portuguese to evangelize Portugal.
